Tomtoc Slash-T64 18L / 15.6" Laptop Backpack (Meteorite)

The Tomtoc Slash-T64 is a compact yet very spacious backpack (18L) with numerous pockets that make it easy to organize the interior. It features a geometric design that combines two types of fabric to give it a unique look. The fabric is lightweight and water-resistant, so it can withstand the rain. The zippers sewn into the backpack are from YKK, a Japanese company renowned for its quality. It easily accommodates laptops with a screen size of up to 15.6".

Construction

The Slash-T64 is a backpack with a flap secured by two buckles. On the front, there's a spacious, slanted, zippered pocket—inside which are two additional pockets and a cord with a carabiner, to which you can attach keys or an AirTag. On each side, there is a pocket that extends halfway up the height of the closed backpack, where you can store items such as a water bottle. When you lift the flap and unfold the top section of the backpack, you'll find a zipper leading to a hidden pocket. Inside the backpack, on the back side, there are two sewn-in pockets—one taller and wider, the other shorter and narrower. Both are fastened together with a Velcro strap. Opposite them are two pockets of equal width.
