The Lanberg FF01 series rack combines functionality with robust design, offering a solution for storing and organizing equipment. Constructed with a glass door and reinforced with durable materials, this cabinet ensures both visibility and security. The 600 x 1000 flat pack configuration allows for easy transportation and assembly, making it suitable for various environments. Designed for optimal airflow, the built-in 6 cooling fans help maintain the temperature of equipment housed within. The inclusion of multiple locks, wheels with brakes, and perforated doors further enhance security and accessibility. Whether for a data center or an office setting, this freestanding rack meets various compliance standards while supporting a weight limit of 800 kg, ensuring reliability under demanding conditions.
