GODOX LUX Senior Flash (green)

The Godox Lux Senior is a flash that combines timeless aesthetics with modern photographic capabilities. Its distinctive, foldable design, inspired by classic flash units, makes this model stand out in both appearance and functionality. When folded, it takes up very little space—it's about the size of an average smartphone, so it fits easily into a camera bag or backpack. When unfolded, it impresses with its unique design and specially engineered reflector and flash head, which allow you to achieve striking, atmospheric lighting. The flash is compatible with Fuji, Canon, Nikon, Olympus, and Sony cameras, and its built-in rechargeable battery eliminates the need for disposable batteries.

Create Your Way

The Lux Senior adapts to the photographer's working style, offering two ways to control the flash. Auto mode (A) automatically selects exposure settings, allowing you to focus on framing and capturing the right moment. If, on the other hand, you want full control over the light, simply switch the flash to manual mode (M), which allows you to adjust the flash output yourself and precisely tailor the effect to the conditions and your own vision.

Greater Versatility

The flash is equipped with an optical triggering system featuring S1 and S2 modes, allowing you to easily integrate it into a more complex lighting setup. In S1 mode, the flash is triggered by another flash operating in manual or TTL mode, while S2 mode skips the pre-flash and responds only to the actual flash. Additionally, the unit features a SYNC sync socket, and the appropriate cable is included in the kit, giving you even greater freedom while shooting.

Retro charm and modern convenience

The Godox Lux Senior is more than just a flash—it’s an accessory designed for photographers who value both functionality and unique style. Its original design evokes the atmosphere of classic photography while offering the convenience of modern solutions. Its compact design, powerful rechargeable battery, and broad compatibility with popular camera systems make the Lux Senior ideal for portrait sessions, street photography, reportage, and everyday photography, giving each shot a unique character.
