The Lanberg bulk cable offers a reliable solution for networking applications with its robust construction and high-performance specifications. Featuring UTP technology and composed of bare copper conductors, this cable ensures excellent signal integrity for data transmission needs. With 8 wires and 4 pairs per cable, this CAT 5e rated cable supports frequencies of up to 100 MHz, making it suitable for a range of networking tasks.

Designed with a durable PVC/PE jacket material, this cable is compliant with ISO/IEC 11801 and ANSI/TIA/EIA 568 standards, ensuring quality and performance. The American Wire Gauge (AWG) of 24 makes it easy to work with for various installations. Choose the Lanberg cable to enhance network connectivity and provide reliable data transfer for business or personal projects.
